LEARN MORE ABOUT IT

What makes Hawaiian Ti Leaf and Babassu Oil ethnobotanicals?

Ethnobotanicals are plants or herbs that are tied to a region and its people. Hawaiian Ti Leaf falls into this group because of its traditional use in the South Pacific, where the leaf is used to cool and soothe skin, particularly on the feet. Babassu Oil, meanwhile, is traditionally used in South America for its natural skin softening and moisturizing properties.

What makes Epoch Firewalker different from other foot creams on the market?

The key ingredients in Epoch Firewalker have been studied by a world-renowned ethnobotanist to determine how they can soothe tired, sore feet.

Is Epoch Firewalker only meant to be used on the feet, or can I use it on other parts of the body as well?

Epoch Firewalker is designed to help soothe hot, tired, achy feet resulting from standing or walking for long periods. While it is fine to use on other parts of the body, it delivers the best results when used on sore feet.

How is Epoch Firewalker different from Epoch IceDancer?

Epoch IceDancer is an invigorating leg gel, while Epoch Firewalker is a relaxing foot cream. Epoch IceDancer is applied to tired legs to help them feel more revived. Epoch Firewalker, on the other hand, is a reward for tired feet at the end of the day.
